Col. Butterfield arrived from Atchison with his first coach on Saturday last thereby marking the consumation of his great enterprise and On the same day Gen. Bela M. Hughes expected to reach; Empire City, over the Berthend.
Pass, with his wagon road from the West. It is true, he has not completed the road, but the fact that it is cut out so as to be page able for a wagon train, such as he has triumphantly proves the success of his undertaking.

Mr. R. Fisher, engineer of the party, arrived in this city several days ago. He reports that they constructed a first rate road from Salt Lake to Green river crossing. This side of there, the work was not well done, owing to the lateness of the season, and a short supply of provisions, the party hurried forward, doing only work enough to make the road easily passable by wagons. This has been done all the way, and the now road hence to Utah, Nevada, and California, is a fixed fact. Early next season work will be resumed, and before July the great Overland mail will be pass ing over it.

These two new roads, the Smoky Hill and Middle Parkwill shorten the distance between: St. Louis and San Francisco, almost three hundred miles compared with the present overland routes of travel. The importance of such a fact cannot be overestimated. - Denver News

No CHURCHES IN LOAHO .- The church-going community, if any there be, are badly off at present in this place. With the excep-tion of the Catholic churches at several points in this country, there is no church of any kind now open for religious services. The building originally erected for that purpose in Idaho city, still stands, being occupied as a court room, but no minister of the gospel has proclaimed "glad" or any other kind of tidings from its pulpit for several months. There is no Protestant church in the Boise Basin.—Idaho World.

NEW QUARTZ DISCOVERES. We learn that some excitement exists at Idaho City in regards to new and rich discoveries of quartz 15 miles beyond the Payette. The leads five or six in number are described as being plainly traceable for five miles in extent, and of extent traordinary thickness. Some specimens of the rock brought from there gave a remarkable good prospect.—Daltes Mountaineer.

That there were varied and important interests out here to be developed, the vast mineral resources and other vast objects to be attended to. He next referred to the educational, moral and progressive advancements desirable in this far western section of our common country; objects to be brought about, particularly, through the agencies of argument, education, the freedom of speech and of the press they being the great auxiliaries to elevate mankind to

He hoped to have the co-operation of his constituents, in the various efforts and endeavors which, officially, he would suggest and sanction for the maintenance of the public good,-that it was becoming, when we had laws, to have the same obeyed. If their laws were wrong, the proper way was to have them repealed, but that while they were the statutes they should be respected and maintained. After other sensible remarks, to the occasion apprepriate, the worthy gentleman bid his audience "Good Might". The late interruption of our mail and telegraphic communication has been seriously felt by all classes, the banker, merchant, farmer and mechanic. all have alike suffered.

Business has been stagnant, trade has staggered and dust and coin have been inactive. But the arrival of the regular mail has given a sudden impetus to commerce &t., in Utah, that cannot fail to be noticed and improved. The countenances of the monied men brighten with "new specs" a head; the banker knows what Gold is worth in New York; the merchant can mark his goods at prices in accordance with latest quotations from the "Commercial mart of the Union"; the mechanic seed contracts and new jobs awaiting him and the printer Areams of additional subscriptions and ad's. Previous to march 4, 1841, there had been but eight presidents of the United States during a period of fifthhoo years, viz: Washington, 8 years; J. Adams, 4 years; Jefferson, 8 years; Madison, 8 years ; Monroe, 8 years ; J. Q. Adams, 4 years; Jackson,'8 years, and Van Buren, 4 years none of whom died in office In remarkable contrast with this, since March 4, 1841, a period of but twentyfour years, there have been nine presidents, two of whom died during the first term, and one in the second, viz: Harrion, 1 month; Tyler, 8 years and 11months; Polk, 4 years; Taylor, 7 year and 4 months; Fillmore, 2 years and 8 months ; Pierce, 4 years ; Buchanan, 4 years ; Lincoln, 4 years and 1 month; and Johnson, the present incumbent.
